Officials from the Ministry of State Secretariat of Indonesia and the Australian Embassy visit returned migrant workers in Bondan village, Indramayu, who have benefited from a microcredit program funded under the Alumni Grant Scheme.

Do you have an idea or initiative that can create a positive impact to your profession or community? It's time to take it forward.

The Australian Embassy is pleased to announce a call for project proposals under the Alumni Grant Scheme (AGS). The AGS aims to strengthen Australia-Indonesia linkages and encourage alumni to further leverage their Australian-earned expertise to put ideas into action to create meaningful change.

The AGS offers seed funding, on a competitive basis, for initiatives that create impact in your professional field, organisation and community.

What funding is available?

Up to 25 grants, to the value of $10,000, are available under the current AGS round. Additional funding (up to $5,000) is available for proposals that are in partnership with an Australian organisation or have secured additional funding sources. If you were previously awarded an AGS grant, which has demonstrated good results, you may also apply for a follow-on grant to scale up your activities.

The AGS supports a range of initiatives, including but not limited to the following.

- Training, workshops and seminars;
- Capacity building, mentoring or coaching;
- Research and Development; and innovation practices;

- Knowledge and technology transfer;
- Professional networking programs;
- Public awareness campaigns; and,
- Community development activities.

The more innovative, the better!

Who can apply?

The AGS is open to all Indonesian nationals who have graduated from a recognised Australian tertiary institution, including those that self-funded their study in Australia. It is also open to alumni of short-term study or programs in Australia.

The Australian Embassy has a strong commitment to supporting women and people with a disability and strongly encourages these alumni to apply.

When are the applications open?

AGS applications are now open and close on April to June and November to January for every year.
