PREVIEW FORUM

Gender, Disability, and Other Cross-Cutting Issues

AAI seeks to attract eligible applicants from a broad and diverse range of backgrounds. To support diversity, AAI encourages eligible applications from people with disabilities, people from AAI Equity Target Provinces, and other disadvantaged groups. AAI's Gender, Disability, and Social Inclusion Strategy adopts an approach that considers multiple identities, seeks to address potential discrimination points, and favours solutions that are aligned with the concept of intersectionality when possible.

DFAT strongly encourages applications from people with disability who are otherwise eligible for a Scholarship. Under the Disability Discrimination Act, Australian education institutions have to provide 'reasonable adjustments' to students with disability to assist access to study. To assess the likely support needs, appropriate assistance, and the capacity of relevant institutions to provide the assistance, awardees with a disability/special need must provide details of the disability and/or special need when they accept their offer. This information is bound by Australian privacy laws and will be disclosed only for the purpose of facilitating an accessible barrier-free learning environment.

Modifications to physical or learning environments, including additional educational supports such as sign interpreters and captioning, may be available depending on the relevant institution's capacity. DFAT will advise the institution of any special requirements associated with an Awardee so that the institution can pass these details to the institution's Disability Liaison Officer prior to the Awardee arriving on-campus. Where an institution is not able to provide the assistance requested, other institutions may be recommended.

Do you identify as having a disability?

Yes No

Under Australian law, disability includes physical, intellectual, psychiatric, sensory, neurological, learning disabilities, physical disfigurement, and the presence in the body of disease-causing organisms. (Australia Awards Scholarships Policy Handbook)

If yes, please provide details if you require special assistance or equipment to participate in the scholarship selection processes or to live and undertake studies in Australia?

You can use the questions below to guide you.

- Hearing and Speaking - to communicate with others do you require or use any specific assistance? (For example, hearing aids, sign language interpreter, lip reading, other communication assistive device or additional time.)
- Writing and Reading - to access information and communicate using written materials do you require or use any specific assistance? (For example, large print, Braille, computer software (e.g. Jaws), lap top/computer, someone to transcribe for you, or additional time.)
- If you use an assistive device, please tell us what kind of device it is and/or if you have ever used a different type of device.
- Do you need specific support for your mobility?

Write your answer below.

Do you work in a disability-focused organisation?

Australia for ASEAN Scholarships

At the ASEAN-Australia Special Summit held in March 2024, Australia's Prime Minister announced 75 Australia for ASEAN Scholarships to support emerging ASEAN leaders to study in Australia and advance the ASEAN Outlook on the Indo-Pacific (AOIP).

Australia for ASEAN scholarships are prestigious international awards offered by the Australian Government to the next generation of leaders from ASEAN member states. Through study and research, recipients develop the skills and knowledge to drive change and help build enduring people-to-people links with Australia.

For more detailed information on priority areas of study can be found at: <https://asean.org/speechandstatement/asean-outlook-on-the-indo-pacific/>

Are you Interested in your application also being considered for the Australia for ASEAN Scholarship Program?

YES NO

In what specific ways will your proposed study address the needs and challenges faced by ASEAN member states?

Max: 2000 character

In this form, you are confirming your acceptance to be considered into the Australia for ASEAN Scholarship Program.

Australia for ASEAN scholarships provide an opportunity to obtain a Masters by research or Master by coursework qualification at an Australian tertiary institution. Students wishing to undertake a Masters by research degree are strongly encourage to apply.

The Australian Government and Australia's world class university sector are jointly contributing to these scholarships, demonstrating Australia's whole-of-nation commitment to the region. The following universities are partnering with this program:

- Australian National University
- Bond University
- Deakin University
- Griffith University
- Monash University

- Queensland University of Technology
- RMIT University
- Swinburne University of Technology
- University of Adelaide
- University of Melbourne
- University of New South Wales
- University of Queensland
- University of Southern Queensland
- University of Tasmania.

Australia for ASEAN scholars will also participate in an ASEAN Emerging Leaders Program, which will provide a range of learning, networking and development opportunities.

Applications are strongly encouraged from women, people with disability and marginalised groups.

Applicants are assessed on their professional and personal qualities, academic competence and their potential to impact on one of the four priority areas of cooperation: maritime, connectivity, economic, and sustainable development cooperation.

Detailed information on priority areas of study can be found at:
<https://asean.org/speechandstatement/asean-outlook-on-the-indo-pacific/>

Scholarships will be offered for commencement in 2025.

The benefits of an Australia for ASEAN scholarship and application process remain the same as the Australia Awards program, with some adjustments to the Pre Departure Training (PDT) program.

All applicants applying for an Australia Awards Scholarship whose preference is at one of the universities mentioned above will be considered for the Australia for ASEAN Scholarship.

I hereby confirm my interest in applying for the Australia for ASEAN Scholarship Program in addition to the Australia Awards Scholarship.

I understand that joining the Australia for ASEAN Program will necessitate some changes to the pre-departure training conducted in Indonesia.

I acknowledge that my eligibility for the Australia for ASEAN Scholarship is contingent upon fulfilling the minimum criteria.
